

Louie Bargach

Managing Director

RUSSO'S NEW YORK PIZZERIA, INC.

Louie a restaurant industry veteran, has held senior positions for many years with different organizations like Brinker International, Inc., Restaurant Unlimited Inc. and with Fired-up Inc. the parent company of Johnny Carino's where for fifteen years he was instrumental in developing a full Franchise Department covering all states and that supported the development of 80 restaurants. Most recently, Louie has run his own consulting firm where he worked with several private equity firms and investor groups to support major restaurant acquisitions, new brand launches and Franchise development.

Known around the office for his passion and intensity, Louie is as passionate about the restaurant business as he is about his team. Always thinking on his feet, he talks quickly and moves almost at lightning speed, and his team is often known to follow him down the hall completing projects as they go.

With a background in specialty brands, restaurant operations and consulting, Louie manages the day-to-day business for the Russo's Restaurants, franchise operations and retail business. And he keeps things lively in the office.
